

Economic Terrorists

the real enemy combatants

Obama is going to get rid of the Enemy Combatant status, which is applied to those persons regarded as terrorists. Thus, they are considered enemy soldiers at war and lose all their rights as US citizens and world citizens. They are “soldiers at war.”

We should do the same thing with Corporate CEO's that have defrauded the American People and the world. They should be regarded as Economic Terrorists, enemy combatants, lose their rights as individuals and be judged by military tribunals. That indeed should be the luck of the thieves in Corporate America: SEC Chairman Christopher Cox, as well as the heads of so many corporations that defrauded the American People.

Do you still think AIG should give those bonuses to economic terrorists?
